"Teaching with Fire: (Re) Igniting the Passion for Teaching"
An assessment of the 3rd Annual Teaching Day
January 9th, 2014

207 Faculty, Administrators, and Staff
(77 more than last year)

Level 1: Participation
Level 2: Satisfaction
Level 3: Learning
Level 4: Application
Level 5: Systemic Impact

The NAU Teaching Academy and the staff of the Faculty Professional Development Program convened the Third Annual NAU Teaching Day from 11:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. for over 200 pre-registered participants. The visiting speaker was Dr. John Pollard, a faculty member at the University of Arizona, who talked about his work on teaching students to think within their discipline ("thinking chemically" in his case). Following his presentation, a series of round table discussions was convened, each focusing on a different topical area related to university teaching.

This event was supported by the Office of the Provost and the Faculty Professional Development Program.

Larry Gallagher, Director, Faculty Professional Development Program
Ed Cahall, Program Coordinator, Sr.
Samantha Clifford, Graduate Assistant

"Fire" Prediction Today